

FRANCE AND ENGLAND MAY BECOME INVOLVED IN A SERIOUS BROIL

Action of France in Advancing Into the Ruhr Valley is Underlying Cause of Disturbance -- French Press Declares the British Position on the Matter is a "Bitter Pill" for France -- Whole Subject May be Opened to Diplomatic Discussion.

(By Associated Press.)
Paris, April 9.—Great Britain's attitude on the advance of the French in the Ruhr region, is viewed by Paris newspapers as a bitter pill for France and it is considered her action in Belgium in supporting the policy of France will hardly compensate for it. The Echo de Paris attacks Lloyd George and calls him a "demagogue." The Journal blames all the allies in France in measured terms.

Roasts Lloyd George.
(By Associated Press.)
London, April 9.—The London Times, which is antagonistic to Premier Lloyd George, attacks the government's attitude on France's occupation of German neutral territory as set forth in an "authoritative statement, and asks if this is the return we are to make France for all she has done and suffered by our side."

May Open Whole Subject.
(By Associated Press.)
Paris, April 9.—The British attitude toward the French move in Ruhr Valley, will cause the opening of diplomatic conversation concerning the whole subject regarding the action, it is said in official circles.

United States Is Standing By.
(By Associated Press.)
Washington, April 9.—America's attitude towards the adjustment of the situation created by French occupation of the Ruhr district, continues to be more that of an observer than of an interested participant, from what can be learned in official circles today.

Reckless French Shooting.
(By Associated Press.)
Frankfort, April 9.—Assertion is made that there was no intention to fire a machine gun into the crowds Wednesday and that the incident was really a mishap made by a French officer. Those who witnessed it feared on the part of the French soldiers that the crowd intended to rush on the patrol in the street led to the tragedy. This man it is declared put a belt of cartridges into the gun for the purpose of firing one shot to disperse the crowd. The explosion of the gun, however, caused a soldier in charge to lose his head and the whole belt was fired. It is explained by the officer that every care had been taken to prevent the repetition of the "accident."

Washington Government Knew All.
(By Associated Press.)
Washington, April 9.—It is the known fact that the State Department was in communication with London and Italy as well as France up to the time the French army moved forward from Mayence Bridgehead and there is no indication that the position taken more than a week ago when the State Department announced it knew of no reason why German troops should be sent to the troubled district if not to be withdrawn when order was restored.

RUMOR OF TEXAS COTTON ZONE QUARANTINES

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, April 9.—There are reports today that the board of horticulture would order the quarantine of six counties in Texas with non-cotton production zone for five miles around infected areas and regulated zones for twenty-five miles further. Chairman Marlett, however, refused to discuss reports.

BRAZOS CO. POLL--TAX STRENGTH

There are 1,000,000 qualified voters in Texas for 1920 according to 1919 poll tax payments and Dallas leads with 30,734 of which 4,254 are women. Brazos County has 2,495 of which 278 are women. In 1918 Brazos County had 2,036 poll tax voters. There are 105,336 women in Texas entitled to vote in the primaries.

P. M. GENERAL IS DUBBED SOCIALIST BY JOE BAILEY

He Declares Wilson Will Not be Elected President for a Third Term -- Two Terms Are Enough, Bailey Declares.

Seguin, Tex., April 9.—Addressing an audience of Guadalupe County voters that overtaxed the seating capacity of the Country Club pavilion, former Senator Joseph W. Bailey, democratic candidate for governor, declared that his fight has not been against the present democratic administration, but a fight for democratic principles. He stated that he does not intend to jump out of the party because he is being criticized for attacking the administration, but that he does intend to make the other fellow jump out.

Frequent and prolonged applause during Senator Bailey's speech indicated that the audience concurred in his attitude toward the general governmental situation. James Greenwood presided as chairman of the meeting and Senator Bailey was introduced by C. H. Donegan.

Shortly after beginning his address, Senator Bailey declared that the class of people who are at present criticizing him for jumping on the democratic administration represent the same class who in 1896 were loud in their remarks against Grover Cleveland. "I do not want you to think that I am simply fighting the administration for the sake of a fight," said Mr. Bailey. "I am fighting for the re-establishment of democratic principles, I shall not shrink from that criticism."

Mr. Bailey then declared that if Wilson was a candidate at present, running on his first term, he would not even make a poor showing. He stated that in his opinion one-half of the cabinet are socialists and the remainder are a cross between socialists and federalists.

"There is not a real democrat in the crowd," he said, "who does not need some adjective to describe his democracy. And as the possibility of Wilson's candidacy for a third term, he has not made a statement, and we do not know whether he will be a candidate or not, but I know that Wilson ought not to be a candidate. Two terms were enough for Washington, Jefferson and a few of the other real men, and two terms are too many for Wilson."

At one point, in referring to the present cabinet, Mr. Bailey mentioned the name of Postmaster General Burleson, and asked the audience what they thought of Burleson as postmaster general for life. He also referred in a jocular manner to the league of nations, calling it the "league of notions."

Preceding the meeting last night a dinner was given at the club and among others present was Box Roberts, a Guadalupe farmer, who drove to town Wednesday to attend yesterday's meeting, declaring he was afraid of a breakdown and did not want to take a chance of missing the speech.

Among those who occupied places of prominence on the platform were former State Senator Faust; F. C. Weiner, state warehouse commissioner; Ed R. Kone, former commissioner of agriculture; Walter Timon, district judge at Corpus Christi, and A. J. Bell of San Antonio.

MANY KILLED IN RUSSIA AND JAP CONFLICTS

Vladivostok, April 6.—The Japanese Imperial flag was substituted for the Russian Ensign throughout this section of Siberia, the night before capture of the town. The Japanese fought with rifles and machine guns, grenades and small artillery in all parts of city. Many are being killed in the Russian and Japanese conflict.

Japanese troops Monday occupied Vladivostok after eight hours severe fighting in all parts of city. All Russians were disarmed and some revolutionary leaders deserted.

TEXAN IS WORLDS DARING AVIATOR, OMER LOCKLEAR

(By Associated Press.)
Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—What is believed to be the first warrant in this country charging reckless driving was issued here today against Omar Locklear, former army aviator. The warrant charges Locklear with disturbing the peace by "tumultuous and offensive conduct" in looping the loop yesterday a few feet above the trees in a downtown public square.

Most Daring Aviator.
(Note—Omar Locklear is the most daring aviator in the world. He was born in Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas, and recently visited there and the writer met him and his "little cousin" who sailed through the air with him at Mt. Pleasant. Several aviators have lost their lives trying to imitate Locklear's air stunts.—Editor.)

BANKER-FARMERS MEETING AT THE A. AND M. COLLEGE

The Eagle wishes to commend the Banker-Farmer meeting which will be held at College Station, April 20 and 21, with the object of the bankers and farmers making a study of improved agriculture and learning how advanced cultural methods and better livestock and feeding may be used most effectively in each community. In this manner it is hoped that the banker may learn the advantages of such practices and encourage same by financing the farmers so that they may put them into practice, while the farmer may learn something of what is lacking in his system of farm management, and by the assistance which the banker can lend him be induced to adopt such changes as may prove beneficial in his particular circumstances.

Dallas Won the Convention.
(By Associated Press.)
Dallas, Texas, April 9.—Dallas was awarded the State democratic convention by the party's executive committee in session here Thursday afternoon. The convention meets May 25 and its principal business will be the selection of the Texas delegation to the national democratic convention at San Francisco in June.

Action Must Be Had.
(By Associated Press.)
Washington, April 9.—A resolution was adopted by the senate and directs the Interstate Commerce Commission to inquire into the strike situation and submit a report to the senate. Supporting the resolution Senator McCormick said what is needed now "in default of appointment of federal labor board authorized by railway act is bringing facts before the public and to mobilize public opinion."

Wilson Will Name Board.

Washington, April 9.—President Wilson is understood to have decided upon the personnel of the railroad labor board and white house officials say nominations will probably be sent to the senate today.

Crockett Bankers Helping Boys.
(By Associated Press.)
Crockett, Tex., April 9.—The First National Bank of Crockett has inaugurated a campaign for the improvement of the live stock industry of Houston County that will prove of inestimable benefit to our farmers. A carload of registered Hereford bulls will be purchased by the bank and sold to the farmers on a year's time without one dollar of profit. Don Moore, cashier of the bank, and Edgar Arledge, live stock expert, left for Fort Worth today to select and purchase the animals.

WOMEN WILL RUN JEWETT TOWN

(By Associated Press.)
Jewett, Tex., April 9.—Unique in the annals of Texas politics was the city election held here this week. Of the officials named but one represents the sterner sex and he happens to be "the law." The women elected contested with and defeated their husbands and thus Jewett is probably the first Texas city to turn over its municipal affairs to women. The following were elected: Mrs. J. T. Adkisson, mayor; Mrs. R. H. Evans, Ma. J. J. Barron, Mrs. W. R. Dotson, Mrs. Coakley Evans and Mrs. F. P. Harrison, alderwomen, and R. F. Dunn, marshal.

CITY NATIONAL BANK OF BRYAN OFFERS TRIP TO BOYS OF BRAZOS COUNTY

The City National Bank of Bryan is offering to the boys of Brazos County, a free trip, valued at $300.00, on the Texas Farm Boys' Special as announced by H. H. Williamson of A. and M. College. The Texas Farm Boys' Special is to be conducted and supervised by the Extension Service of A. and M. College and the Texas Chamber of Commerce. It will be composed of standard Pullman cars and an observation car, and will leave College Station on the last day of the Farmers' Short Course on an educational tour through the middle western, eastern and southern states. The trip will carry from 125 to 150 well selected club boys and from approximately 125 counties in Texas. The object of this tour is to study and observe the best farming methods and practices used throughout the United States.

The motto of the "Special" is, The Best for Texas. The ultimate aim is to connect the best farming methods with the great resources of Texas. Visits will be made to outstanding farms enroute and a few of the leading agriculture colleges. Stops will be made in the leading cities enroute—two or three days will be spent at Washington City, where visits will be made to Congress, the White House, and other places of national interest. While at Washington side trips will be made to the old towns of Georgetown and Alexandria, and the old home of Robert E. Lee. A boat trip will probably be made down the Potomac river to Mount Vernon, the home of Washington. The detailed itinerary will be announced later.

Mr. E. H. Astin, president of the City National Bank, when interviewed stated, "The object in offering this prize to the boys of Brazos county is to stimulate their interest in better farming, better home life, and to fire into them an ambition for an education of the proper kind. It is true, only one boy will win the trip but it is hoped that whoever it is will bring back messages and inspiration to other boys of the county, that will help the coming generation of Brazos county to make this county the leading agricultural county in Texas." Mr. Astin stated further, "If any boy is in need of financial assistance for the purpose of buying a pig or calf, in order to get into the club work, the City National Bank will take pleasure in rendering whatever assistance is necessary."

All boys in Brazos county, between the ages of 10 and 18 are eligible for this trip, provided they are enrolled in the Boys' Agricultural Club Work, which is conducted by the Extension Service of A. and M. College, on or before May 15, 1920. There are a large number of boys in the county who are already enrolled. Others, who are interested in becoming members and competing for this prize should do so at an early date. It does not cost anything to enroll and compete. Those desiring to enroll may obtain enrollment cards from their teacher or by calling at the City National Bank of Bryan.

The selection of the boy to make the trip will be made about July 1. The selection will be made by a competitive examination in agriculture. An Examination Committee will be selected at the proper time, to give the examination. A large list of agricultural questions has been prepared by the Extension Service. From these the examination committee will select the ones to be given on the examination. This list is being furnished to the teachers of Brazos county to be posted in their schools, in order that all boys may have a chance to study and review.

Any detailed information desired concerning the Texas Farm Boys' Special may be obtained at the City National Bank or by communicating with the Extension Service of A. and M. College. There may be others in Brazos county who wish to aid in the work and we would suggest they take up the matter with Mr. H. H. Williamson.

"HAVE A HEART."

Our friends, J. W. Mahan, Jr., of the Democratic Administration Executive Committee of Texas, and D. C. McCaleb, of the Bailey State Executive committee, on Monday morning sent the Eagle nine columns of political advertising with request to "Publish at Once." Not a sou accompanied the advertising. We are helpless. The newspaper trust notified us that there was no more blank paper. Everybody has quit work and gone into the propaganda work. The Dallas News of Saturday gave the distress call and announced a shortage of newsprint. Production has been cut in two; wages have been doubled and the war-tax and other profiteers are robbing the people. There are several million profiteers and nobody wants to work. Mexican and negro laborers are striking for double pay and five hours work. They cannot produce enough to support themselves. The propagandists are appearing every where by the thousands. The Eagle pleads for mercy. Boys do "have a heart" and cease your criminal practices.

OVEREATING.

The Dallas News says: "One of Mr. Edison's useful acts on his seventy-third birthday was to warn against overeating. He doesn't eat more than a pound and a half of food in a day. Once he ate for each hour keeps him going—and he goes some! Too many men eat a heavy breakfast because it is to them a sort of prehistoric ceremonial. They eat a generous luncheon for business reasons. They go in heartily for dinner because that is a social function. If what Edison says is true, that America could reduce its food consumption two-thirds, what a drop there would be in the cost of living if all Americans decided to get along on just enough to keep the physical fires burning! No doubt the above was written by Joe J. Taylor, the venerable and dignified State Press of the Dallas-Galveston News. We saw Joe at Tyler during the recent meeting of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and he looked immense. His personal pulchritude caused favorable remarks by every one. As Joe grows older he grows more corpulent and better looking. He evidently eats more than Mr. Edison and it certainly agrees with him.

NEWSPAPERS.

One firm in Hillsboro paid the town newspaper $3,000 for advertising in 1919. Hillsboro has only 6,500 people. The Hillsboro paper is eight to twelve pages daily. One firm in McKinney paid $3,600 for advertising in 1919. The McKinney papers are ten to sixteen pages. It takes advertising to make newspapers. A good newspaper is worth as much to a town as any other institution. The newspaper business must be made as profitable as the automobile, movie or any other business. It will take this to stabilize the business. We will pay exorbitant prices for other things but when the newspapers ask a reasonable advance for service many will not grant it. No town was ever heard of very much that did not have a real newspaper to stand for it and let the world know that you and you and you are doing. Sulphur Springs is calling for a real newspaper. The News-Telegram of that city admits there are only two excuses there. The News-Telegram is broad-gauged and knows whereof it speaks.

Herbert C. Hoover's candidacy for the presidency reminds us of Dr. Cook's alleged dash to the North Pole. It is a cold proposition.

If a "wet" plank was put in the platform at the San Francisco conventions perhaps some "dry" delegate would drink it. Some democrats are very peculiar persons.

The census report on the cities of Bryan, Hillsboro, Corsicana and Bonham were given out Monday. Bryan is given a population of 6,255, an increase of 52.3 per cent. Hillsboro is given 6,952, an increase of 13.7 per cent. Corsicana is given 11,356, an increase of 16.5 per cent. Bonham is given 6,008, an increase of 16.5 per cent.—Rockdale Reporter.

The following Press dispatch has appeared: "Elgin, Tex., April 5.—Oscar Snowden lost the end of one of his fingers in a bean thresher yesterday at his home three miles from town. He was brought to town for medical aid." That reminds us of the manner in which Philosopher Perry Perriwinkle lost two fingers. After the thresher got one of his fingers he took us to show us how it was done and poking his other finger into the machine lost it completely. Perry now keeps his other fingers out of threshing machines, and when he goes near a thresher puts his hands in his pockets. He is wise.

A little tot with curly hair, bright blue eyes and dimpled cheeks, came into the Eagle office the other morning and asked: "When I have my birthday party will you print it in the Eagle, because we love to read the paper." Bless her heart, yes, her party will be printed. We would much prefer giving the children of today some notice for they will be the real, living men and women of tomorrow, than to give all the space to the war factions in Europe and every child in Bryan is welcome to the columns of the Eagle when they have their parties and if necessary we will give them an extra column.

"I am going to strike," shouted Philosopher Perry Perriwinkle as he entered the Eagle office this morning. "I worked seven hours last week and I have what is known as the CLOTHING PROBLEMS.

A traveling clothing drummer called at the Eagle office Tuesday selling clothing in competition with the local dealers of Bryan. We did not look at his samples or get his prices as we expect to submit our clothing problems to the merchants of Bryan as soon as we make money enough to buy a spring suit. The traveling salesman is now out of town and the home business men will have to pay the taxes, support the schools and churches and keep the Chamber of Commerce going. Think it over.

strike mania." We hope somebody will strike Perry a few good blows. He is a menace to civilization and an enemy to himself. He is our friend but he is a fool. We love him but we would rather see him dead and buried than to go on as a raving maniac.

The Eagle believes in "Flowers for the Living." The man who speaks well of others need never worry over what people say of him."

The Eagle has no sympathy for a nation that prefers fighting to working. We had better keep our money food and clothing at home.

Mr. Hoover should have used the club on the "Big Five" Packers when he had it. He will never get the club again. He lost his opportunity.

Herbert Hoover and ex-President Taft should have thought of some things that need reformation while they had the power to act. Talk is very cheap.

District Judge W. C. Davis is in Franklin holding the Robertson County court. The Eagle is expecting his announcement for Congress in a few days.

Before we entirely sever the jugular artery of all our friends over the professional politician and his propaganda it would be a good idea to build a few more houses in Bryan. Safety first.

A great many people do not seem to know the war is over—and use this as a justification to play the desperado with the American people. It should not be over with them—their execution is needed to clarify the situation.

It is suggested that the delegates to the National democratic convention at San Francisco will get their mail by airplane. The delegates usually furnish enough of hot air to run the universe and this will be no innovation.

There are three distinct and constitutional branches of government in the United States. (1) Judicial. (2) Executive. (3) Legislative. Many of the politicians do not seem to distinguish the difference. They ought to be doomed to the political scrap heap for the safety of the country.

Tom McCulloch, of Waco, Cone Johnson of Tyler, Bob Henry of Waco, Jim Ferguson of Temple, and others of the different political factions in Texas are in Dallas trying to "save the country" from a different angle. None of the boys have been able to save themselves from political death but they are engaged in the Herculean task to save others. "On with the Battle."

The notices several paramourers who are only propagandists. The paramount question today in the United States and the world is (1) Less war; (2) More production and (3) fewer strikes. A nation that cuts down production and efficiency, goes to war and engages in strikes will ought to perish from the face of the earth. It is the inevitable.

The Eagle has received a copy of the Fairfield Record edited by our friend L. C. Kirgan. We recall when we received the Recorder some twenty-five years ago when it was edited by the late L. D. Lillard, legislator and publisher of Freestone County. We are glad to see the old paper again as it has done much for the lasting good of Fairfield and Freestone County.

Congress has reported a $1,250,000 item for airplane mail service from New York to San Francisco. Perhaps we will have to do as has been done in Mexico when extravagance runs riot—shoot them on the spot. There are too many congressmen who do not know their business—in fact there are too many congressmen anyway.

The Eagle wants to be your friend. Some people never see their names in print because they never tell the editor anything that ought to be in print. Tell it to us and we'll tell it to others.

The rats and the pink boll worm must go. While it seems Texas has just one pest after another yet it is the greatest state in the Union. We are going to put the mosquito out of business in Bryan just to add to the joy of living. "On With the Battle."

Philosopher Perry Perriwinkle came to the Eagle office at an early hour this morning in a regular stew. He said: "I have changed the Golden Rule to read: 'Do others before they do you.' The old way: 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.' is obsolete. My landlord this morning raised my rent from $27.50 per month to $113.75 per month with a proposed raise every thirty days. I'm ready to fight." We assured Perry he was wrong—he must not fight. We told him to go back home and raise three spring gardens where he raised one before.

We recommend farmers planting at least one three-bushel sack of Caddo Farm Mehane cotton seed. Cost 75 cents more per acre first cost. What about yield? Then good seed for next year. Bryan Cotton Oil and Fertilizer Co.

KIT DALTON'S DEATH-- MEMORIES OF SAM BASS

Report Has it That Sam Bass Was Killed in Kentucky But Event Was at Round Rock, Williamson County, Texas --- Cole Younger and James Boys --- Dalton, the Last of the Texas and Western Bandits Dies Poor.

(By Lee J. Rountree)

Reading the following dispatch by the Associated Press which appeared in a number of newspapers it recalled to my mind several incidents connected with the reconstruction period of the United States following the War Between the States as I remember them. The death of Kit Dalton deserted, penniless and alone reiterates the truth of the ages: "The Wages of Sin is Death." The newspaper item reads:

Death of Kit Dalton.

"Memphis, April 5—Kit Dalton survivor of the famous Jesse James band and the Quantrell guerrillas, will no longer be seen on the streets of Memphis clad in the uniform of a Confederate officer. He died today with his boots off, penniless and at the age of 78, in a boarding house here. Broken health accomplished what Federal officers were unable to do during his seventeen years of outlawry.

"The story of Dalton's picturesque life is more thrilling than any work of fiction depicting bold robberies. He started his role under the leadership of the James boys and Cole Younger, taking part in the holdup of thirty-six trains, eight stage coaches and the robbery of twenty-two banks. He applied the same means to a livelihood with the Quantrell guerrillas and the Bass gang of Texas. Five governors pooled issues and offered $50,000 reward for the body of Dalton, dead or alive.

"Dalton forsook banditry to become a gambler in Memphis when the Federal government granted amnesty to all Civil War raiders. Later he reformed and became an evangelist."

Early History Is Recalled.

One night some fifteen or eighteen years ago I was sitting in my office at Georgetown with Sheriff Henry C. Purl, City Marshal R. Y. Secrest and Cole Younger, of Missouri, who was a member of the James and Dalton gang after the war. Among other things Younger told us that Kit Dalton was born in Logan County, Kentucky, in January, 1848, and as a boy of thirteen he ran away from home and joined Bedford Forest's Confederate cavalry during the war. After talking with Younger I am sure the following paragraph in the Houston Post of Monday is an error: "At one time he was a member of Sam Bass' gang in Texas and saw Bass killed during a holdup in Franklin, Ky." Sam Bass was killed by Capt. Dick Ware and a company of Texas Rangers in July, 1876, in the town of old Round Rock on the I. & G. N. Railway terminus in Williamson county, Tex., when they rode across the Brushy Creek to rob the bank and big mercantile establishments. At that time all the freight for one hundred miles west came to Round Rock. Saloons, gambling and dance halls never closed, day or night and Sunday the year round. Somebody tipped off the proposed robbery of the town to Capt. Dick Ware who was with Texas Rangers in Austin and rode horseback to Round Rock in the night. When Sam Bass and his men led by a big fellow named Barnes and resembling Jess Willard rode in the north street, Ware came around the corner from the south. Dick Ware saw Bass first and then the town was in a blaze. Barnes fell from his horse and Sam Bass reeled in the saddle. The smoke filled the street and Dick Ware emptied two pistols. Bass' men fled and Bass himself crossed Brushy where the celebrated "Round Rock" stands giving the town its name appears. He died under a big live oak tree and was taken to a farm-house in the woods and was buried in the cemetery. I conducted a W. O. W. funeral service in memory of a dead friend near his tomb some fifteen years ago. A monument had been built by his sister in Indiana and it had been chipped away by tourists until it then stood only four feet high when it was a nine foot white marble statue when put up. In 1892 I met Dick Ware in Washington City. He was then Sheriff of Mitchell County, Texas, and was appointed United States marshal of Texas by President Grover Cleveland. Afterward I did some special work for Capt. Ware and talked to him frequently about early Texas history and the killing of Sam Bass at Round Rock. A citizen of Round Rock told me he saw Dick Ware shoot Sam Bass and one day I asked him if it was true and I shall never get his answer: "I want to forget that awful day." Blood ran in the streets and several men were killed. I never mentioned the subject to Capt. Ware again. He was one of the bravest, coolest men I ever saw and never boasted of what he had done as captain of the Texas Rangers to rid Texas of the desperadoes and robbers in the 70's. But in 1893 I told President Cleveland what he had done and Capt. Ware served as United States marshal until he died. Peace to his ashes.

Another Version of Round Rock Bank Robbery.

After I had written the story of the killing of Sam Bass as I had heard it I read the following story written by Col. Chas. L. Martin, a Texas historian, and the article appeared in the Dallas News, disproving the Press report that Bass was killed in Kentucky:

"Captain Peak received notice from Murphy that Bass planned to hold up a bank in Waco, so the captain hurried in that direction, but at Waco he received further notice from Murphy that it being inopportune, Bass had abandoned his bank robbery scheme at Waco, substituting Round Rock, where he was proceeding to rob the bank there. His horses being too tired to reach Round Rock in time, Captain Peak wired Major Jones at Austin of the situation. Major Jones gathered up a few rangers who happened to be in Austin and some peace officers and proceeded post haste to Round Rock, arriving there in time to arrange with the bank officers. Placing some of his men, hidden, in the bank and some others at points of vantage near by, he awaited for what might happen, the men proceeding calmly at business. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon Bass and his men rode leisurely into the town, dismounted, leaving their horses in care of Seabe Barnes, one of the later recruits, and proceeded into the bank. After they had well entered they were confronted with cocked pistols thrust into their faces with the command, "Hold up your hands." Their reply was a volley of pistol shots. One ranger was wounded and two of the peace officers killed. As they fired they fled from their horses under a rain of bullets from the rangers and peace officers. Seabe Barnes was killed and Sam Bass wounded. Bass reached his horse, mounted and fled away at full speed with Underwood and Jackson. Riding some five miles, Bass could go no further, so dismounted, tied his horse and laid down under a live oak tree to await the rapidly approaching officers. When they came up Bass formally surrendered, and, being removed to a nearby farmhouse, died next morning. Turning to Captain Dick Ware of the rangers, Bass said: "Dick, you are the man who shot me, and I knew your bullet had hit the right spot when it struck me. But it is all over now, I bear no malice and let the past be the past." He then presented Captain Ware his bowie knife, which Sergeant Ware later on presented to Captain Peak, who has it as a souvenir of the arduous and bloody campaign he had conducted in hunting down the robbers whom he had dispersed with the capture and imprisonment of some and the death of others, without the loss or even wounding of a man of his company."

Cole Younger was a remarkable character. In his actions he reminds me of ex-Speaker Champ Clark, also of Missouri. When I knew him he was the manager of a Carnival Company with numerous shows and about one hundred actors. The night referred to was in Georgetown years ago, there was a great carnival crowd following the firemen's races. The streets were roaring with fun and cheering crowds. There was confetti, whistles and pop-guns and many colored lights. We were sitting by the door watching the gay scene. We saw two men in firemen's uniforms fall in the street bleeding and several ladies started to rush out on the street. Cole Younger quietly said: "Perhaps somebody is dead—you're meant here and I will go." He quietly went out and in the fight two men had been stabbed. He did not wait the ladies to be brought into court as witnesses. That night Capt. John S. Kritzer, city marshal of Taylor, and a member of the Quantrell gang who had served with Cole Younger came over to Georgetown to see him and their reminiscences were something with fire and brimstone in them. I listened to them talk for two hours and review the scenes that tried men's souls following the dark and gloomy days of the south after the War Between the States and I never shall forget a remark Cole Younger made to John Kritzer, whom I have known for thirty years as a law abiding man and a good citizen: "John when you was with me in the Confederate army I did no wrong; but after you went away my home was burned and my mother and sisters turned out and I fought the marauders. Many crimes were charged to the Younger and James boys that they never committed. But I guess, John, we did enough to ruin us all—but we were driven to it." There in the dim light I sat and listened to those grizzled men of other days, old and broken, talk and some how I knew that Cole Younger was a changed man after his twenty-five years in the Minnesota State prison at Stillwater. He died a few years ago at the old home in Missouri and John S. Kritzer went to his funeral.

One day in 1917 I was riding in an automobile with Hon. Herbert C. Hotelling, of Mapletown, Minn., who was president of the National Editorial Association and after a trip to Vancouver and Victoria, Canada, had stopped in Minnesota to attend a banquet given in honor of Mr. Hotelling by his home people, and he pointed out to me where he saw Cole Younger and ten others on horse-back dressed in wide-brimmed black hats and long lancers riding big horses cross a tributary of the Mississippi River and going toward Northfield, Minn., where the 1878 bank robbery took place and several men were killed. Mr. Hotelling told me he was a small boy and thought the desperadoes were the advance guard of the coming circus and the boys gathered and gave them a big boost. Cole Younger had in his life-time told me of this event in his remarkable career where he was shot and arrested and placed in the State prison at Stillwater, Minn., for twenty-five years. He had been driven out of Missouri, $60,000 reward had been offered for him. His version of the Northfield robbery was that he was told that $250,000 had been placed in the bank at Northfield to control elections in the South and to teach the negroes under direction of "Carpetbaggers." I had been over to Stillwater and had looked over the old cells and wards in which he was confined in the old building before the most palatial penitentiary in the United States had been built. In speaking of the trip from Mankato to Northfield Cole Younger said to me: "I instructed all the men at Mankato not to buy any whiskey and not to take a drink as the robbery of the bank must be done orderly, somehow two of the men fell behind and got a quart of whiskey and drank it before we rode into Northfield and entered the bank. The robbery had been successfully accomplished and we had about $240,000 when one of the boys who had the whiskey shot the bank cashier who had reached for a drawer. Then the fighting opened up and as I came out of the bank three men fired at me. Several men were killed and I was wounded. I rode horseback near Mankato and was captured." Herbert Hotelling told me that he saw Cole Younger and several of his men on pots in a baggage car with a number of bullet holes in them. He said there were thousands of people at the depot and the desperadoes were taken to Stillwater before their wounds were dressed. They were convicted and sent to the penitentiary and the Younger-James gang ceased to exist.

After Jesse James was killed by Bob Ford, his alleged friend Frank James and Dalton decided to quit the game and told Cole Younger and others. Frank James was afterward a shoe salesman in Kansas City and Dallas. In 1894 I met Frank James in San Antonio as he was on his way to Kansas City and talked with him from San Antonio to Austin. He told me many things that had been done to his family by carpetbaggers and desperate officers after the war. James said when they stopped a gang from robbing a farm house in Missouri in 1872 they became outlaws and the train and bank robberies followed that startled the whole world. Five or six governors offered rewards of $100,000 for the James boys dead or alive. Recently Tommy Ryan who became the champion middleweight boxer of the world, defeating Dan Creeden at Hot Springs, was in Bryan, giving an entertainment at the Lyric. I talked with him recently at Sulphur Springs where he gave a wonderful athletic exhibition on the public square for a man seventy-two years old. He was born in Williamson county about a mile from the place Sam Bass died, after being shot by Ranger Dick Ware. Tommy Ryan while in Bryan did not give his real name. It was J. M. Juvenal and his family is one of the best in Central Texas. He went to the German war at 70 years of age and was as strong as any young man at twenty-one. He was the oldest man in the service in the United States. He told me he attributed his remarkable strength to the fact that he never drank during all his prize-fighting days and had been around the world. He was near Round Rock when Sam' Boss was killed in 1876, so it must be a mistake that Bass was killed in Kentucky. Tommy Ryan told me many interesting incidents. When I accused him of being the man who put Theodore Roosevelt's eye out in a boxing bout, which was not known generally for ten years, he said: "O, that is only a report." He taught Roosevelt and the Roosevelt boys boxing. He showed me a letter written by Roosevelt to him on a typewriter and he spelled "appreciated" with capital A and left out one "p." Roosevelt always said the typewriter would not spell correctly. Ryan is a remarkable man and while he is seventy-two years old he can run a foot race as a winner and can box now like a Roman gladiator. Perhaps Kit Dalton is the last of a great race of guerrillas and desperadoes who came on the stage after the Civil War and they belonged to an age that will never come again. If the newspaper association will get a copy of the song, "Sam Bass" written by Opie Reed he will find in it the statement that Sam Bass was born in Indiana and came to Texas after robbing the Union Pacific train of $160,000 and was killed at Round Rock, Texas, in July 1876, by Captain Dick Ware and the Texas Rangers. Kit Dalton was in New Mexico leading a gang there. Kit Dalton is perhaps in his class "the last of the Mohicans."

HOOVER TOO LATE.

Herbert C. Hoover talks very glibly regarding the "Big Five" Packers controlling the food of the country. Hoover comes too late. He is now out of office. If he had had the courage to go after them when he was U. S. Food Administrator he would have had the respect of the American people. But he did not do it. These after thought charges are "sounding brass and tinkling cymbal" and will never put him in the presidency.

WICKEDNESS.

Chicago is perhaps one of the most wicked places in the world. It is reeking with crime and viciousness. The people there seem to prefer fighting and striking than working in peace. It ranks with Vienna, Berlin and Moscow in crime and may go the way of Sodam and Gormarrah if it continues in its present shame, debauchery and indolence. Chicago is a stench in the nostrils of decent people and its crimes reach from the rich to the poor and back and over again. Some years ago the question was asked: "What if Christ should come to Chicago?" It would be a pity indeed.

IS NOT A CANDIDATE.

County Superintendent W. L. Powers stated to a representative of the Eagle this morning that he would not be a candidate to succeed himself as County Superintendent, but would retire to private life at the close of his present term. He is very grateful to the people of the county for the confidence reposed in him and for the honor shown him by election to the very important office of County Superintendent. Mr. Powers has not announced his plans following his retirement from office.

PER CAPITA APPORTIONMENT INCREASED TO $8.50

County Superintendent W. L. Powers is in receipt of a letter from the State Superintendent stating that the yearly apportionment had been increased by one dollar per capita, making the amount for this year $8.50 instead of $7.50. This extra apportionment means much money to some school districts and a little money for the all district. This money will not be available before the first of June and perhaps later, but under the law the board of trustees can borrow the money which will enable them to pay the teachers promptly, and the interest on the loan can be paid when the money comes in. The State Superintendent desires that this plan be followed, so the teachers of Texas will not have to wait for their money.

Indications are that prices will not drop, but going higher there is no doubt about this. Cotton has steadily advanced from 39c a pound in January to 43c per pound today. Furthermore, labor strikes, rail road strikes, mill labor strikes will further cause merchandise to go still higher, and the manufacturers and the jobbers remember, have cold feet. They will get all that is coming to them in high prices when they have a chance. I say, buy now your wants for Spring and Summer and protect your interest, and get your goods for less than you will in 30 days more. Our store house is full of bargains, not bought at the high prices but at bargain prices to meet the poorest pocket book, and if we do not price such as you may need on this price list, visit us and I assure you you will find it here for less.

SHIROCK SCHOOL VISITED A. AND M. COLLEGE

A few days ago Messrs. A. Gandy, Tom Sebesta, C. Wilkes, and Mrs. Julia Boriskie and Mrs. Nettie Atkins brought their cars to the Shirock school at noon, and accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, teachers of the school, the entire student body was taken to the A. and M. College on a tour of inspection.

They were first taken through the department of textile engineering where cotton is manufactured into cloth. Mr. J. B. Bagley, head of the department was very courteous to the children and showed them through the different sections of the department, taking pains to thoroughly explain each unit and to show the part each played in the conversion of raw cotton into the finished product of cloth.

Prof. Covey of the agricultural department then took the visiting students in charge and they were shown over the experiment farm. The children were perfectly delighted with the various products being tried out on the experiment farm, and after a thorough inspection of same, Prof. Covey carried them to the Main building where he and Prof. Broyles entertained them for some time with moving pictures and interesting talks. The trip was a most enjoyable, as well as profitable one for all, and after the return home the pupils were required to write themes on their visit to the College and what they saw and learned there.

The patrons and trustees of the newly consolidated school district of Shirock, have done everything in their power to assist and encourage the progress of the school, for which they are worthy and deserve the highest commendation.

VALUABLE HORSE

SAVED

Expected Horse Would Die—
Now Sleek and Healthy.

In reporting his experience, Mr. J. C. Huste, of Rock Bridge Batha, Va., stated: "My horse is the best advertisement you would want for Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders. He was in a run down fix and poor and I thought he would die soon. I got some of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders—and today he is as fine a looking horse as you can see in this section. I only used a few boxes of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders."

Mr. Huste benefited by the advice of Dr. LeGear, Graduate Veterinary Surgeon of 27 years' experience. By following the Doctor's treatment, you can keep your stock sleek and healthy. Here's his offer to you. Get a package of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders from your dealer; feed it to your horses, milk cows, steers, hogs, and sheep as per directions. If after a thorough trial, the results are not satisfactory, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded.—Dr. L. D. LeGear Med. Co., St. Louis, Mo.

EAGLE MAN TAKES SHORT ROAD TRIP

CONDITION OF CROPS, ROADS,
BRIDGES, GARDENS AND HOMES.

A representative of the Eagle made a little trip yesterday afternoon to Cross, Grimes county, and from observations made along the way, found farming conditions almost normal. Everything is a little late, perhaps three weeks, but with a rain and continued warm weather, the difference would not be noticeable within thirty days.

Corn generally is up a good stand, but is small and some of it looked pretty sick from the frost of Monday morning. Some has been planted over recently and is not up yet. One or two farms were seen where the corn was being plowed out. A great deal of cotton has been planted, some is coming up, while some is yet to plant, and in some places there is yet land to be broken. One difficulty noticed everywhere is the cloudy condition of the land. Where it was broken early while wet, it is in big clods, and that broken after it got dry and hard is worse. It will take a lot of rain and much plowing to ever get the land, much of it, in anything like good working condition.

Yesterday was "dipping day" in that section of the county and an automobile could hardly make its way along the public road for the cattle. The Eagle man saw eight or ten bunches being driven either to or from the dipping vats. Dipping the cattle of the county is a big job, but the people seem to have entered into it with a good spirit and appear anxious to comply with the law fully.

The roads from Bryan to M. B. Easters home beyond Kurten are in fairly good condition, though the bridge across Wixon creek and a small bridge just in front of old Wixon church, need flooring badly. Their condition is far from creditable to Brazos county. The road through the Navasota river bottom is very rough and a little water there would put it in far better condition. From the river to Cross the road is fearful. In fact it could hardly be called a road. No work seems to have been done there at all. When a place becomes impassable, they dig around and go through the bushes and over stumps some way so as to get by. They seem to expect air travel soon to become universal when roads will not be needed.

At many homes there were fine gardens. At some they were indifferent, while at others there were no gardens at all. We saw a number of nice, new cottage homes, and others repaired and enlarged, all done within the past few months.

The Eagle man talked with Mr. B. G. Post, a merchant at Cross, and he stated the people of that community were getting along all right. They were progressing nicely with their farm work, and the community generally was in good condition. The people of Cross formed a community gin company last summer and erected a gin plant that would be a credit anywhere. It is equipped to take care of the ginning of the entire community. The land around Cross is sandy, but it is very fertile and Mr. Post says will grow anything that is planted and given the proper cultivation.

EDGE NEWS ITEMS.

Edge, Texas, April 9.—Some of the farmers in this community are busy planting their corn over. Some have planted cotton and have a good stand. Here's hoping it doesn't get killed. Yesterday, the 7th, was our first dipping day. Just dipped 890 and through long before night. I heard one old farmer say that he thought he had about 60 or 65 head of cattle, and when he rounded up and counted, he had 119.

The writer has been fishing some of late down on the Navasota, and believe me we have caught some good fish too. Come, go with me Mr. Editor.

Mrs. Horace Beard and son, Douglas, Mrs. Maude Jones and daughter, Gladys and Miss Annie Souless motored to Bryan today.

MEETING BOARD OF DIRECTORS C. OF C. OF BRYAN TUESDAY

(By S. E. Eberstadt, Secretary)

The Board of Directors of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce met in regular weekly session at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, President E. J. Jenkins presiding. After the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting of March 23 the roll was called, with the following present: E. J. Jenkins, Tyler Haswell, E. J. Fountain, Ed Hall, L. L. McInnis, W. H. Cole, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, Judge J. T. Maloney, J. L. Edge, T. A. Adams, A. M. Waldrop, Prof. P. O. Allen, J. D. Martin, G. A. Adams, Jno. A. Moore, Jr., J. Webb Howell, M. E. Wallace, D. L. Wilson, J. M. Gordon, Travis B. Bryan, Lee J. Rountree, T. K. Lawrence.

The secretary reported on the Rockdale meeting of business men to form a chamber of commerce. The secretary was granted a leave of absence to go to Rockdale. Mr. Ed Hall was present and after the Bryan plans were explained a chamber of commerce of 160 members with a budget of $4,800 per year announced. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Hall and the secretary for assistance and they asked us to recommend a secretary.

President E. J. Jenkins called attention to the constitution for a quarterly membership meeting and the date was fixed for Tuesday night, April 27th, upon motion of Major L. L. McInnis. The arrangements were referred to the Entertainment Committee, with John A. Moore, Jr., chairman.

Travis B. Bryan, chairman of the special Finance and Membership Committee at A. and M. College reported 109 members. Mr. Bryan asked for another day's work to increase the membership which was granted.

Chairman J. L. Edge of the Agricultural Committee, stated that there was very little work to be done on account of the fact that Brazos County had no county agent. Mr. Edge asked that Mr. H. H. Williamson, of A. and M. College, make a statement. Mr. Williamson stated that Brazos county needed an agent and that only $2400 was available and that about $1,200 more was needed. The question was referred to the Agriculture and Finance Committees jointly for a report next Tuesday.

Mr. Ed Hall, chairman of the Finance Committee, reported on the visit of the delegates to the organization of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce at Tyler and that all the counties about forty-five in number had pledged various amounts and suggested that Bryan subscribe for 25 memberships at $10.00 to begin the work. The suggestion was approved and the following joined and the membership list is left with the secretary for further members: Lee J. Rountree, Ed Hall, E. J. Fountain, Judge J. T. Maloney, M. E. Wallace, Tyler Haswell, Prof. P. O. Allen, J. L. Edge, Travis B. Bryan, J. Webb Howell, A. M. Waldrop, Major L. L. McInnis, Judge W. C. Davis, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, J. M. Gordon, D. L. Martin, G. A. Adams, T. K. Adams, T. K. Lawrence, W. H. Cole, D. L. Wilson, E. J. Jenkins, Jno. A. Moore, Jr., and S. E. Eberstadt.

The Tyler Meeting

Chairman A. M. Waldrop, of the Educational Committee, called upon Mr. Ed Hall to make a report of the Tyler meeting when the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hall stated he considered the meeting one of the greatest meetings ever held in Texas in numbers and enthusiasm. He said Bryan stood in the front rank of the meeting. "Mr. Lee J. Rountree was chairman of the meeting being unanimously elected, presiding during the day. Judge W. C. Davis responded to the address of welcome; Secretary S. E. Eberstadt was a member of the nominating committee; Major L. L. McInnis was chairman of the resolution committee; Dr. W. B. Bizzell was a speaker at the banquet and Hon. T. O. Walton, of the A. and M. extension department made one of the principal addresses in the afternoon. Mr. Rountree was elected a vice president and member of the executive committee of the permanent organization. Bryan was recognized as one of the powers in the great meeting of 800 business men representing every interest of East Texas including forty-five counties from the Red River to the Gulf." During the speech of Judge S. A. Lindsey of the Houston Federal Bank, Mr. Hall was called to the chair by Chairman Rountree and presided for an hour during the deliberations.

In the Daily Eagle of April 2nd special mention was made of the splendid addresses at Tyler by Dr. Bizzell.

TEXAS PHYSICIAN TREATED FOR CANCER SUCCESSFULLY

J. M. Gilbert, M. D., of Randolph, Texas, Had Cancer on Face—Dr. O. A. Johnson, Cancer Specialist, Gives Successful Treatment 2 1-2 Years Ago.

The wisdom of going to a specialist was shown when Dr. J. M. Gilbert, well known physician of Randolph Texas, had a bad cancer on the side of his face. Knowing the importance of proper treatment, he went to a leading cancer specialist, Dr. O. A. Johnson, of Kansas City, Mo. Dr. Gilbert states that he is now entirely cured.

"I recommend that every cancer sufferer consult immediately with the man, that I, as a doctor, regard foremost in his line. Dr. Johnson has proved to the world that cancer can be cured." Dr. Johnson has published a remarkable book called "Cancer Truths," a statement of his theories and experiences in treating cancer without the use of the knife. Purely medicinal measures only are employed; that is, external applications to destroy the cancer and internal medication to purify the blood. This book will be sent free to any cancer sufferer. Or, if you have a friend suffering from cancer, write to Dr. O. A. Johnson, Suite 560, 1324 Main St., Kansas City, Mo. 252-2025

A. L. EWING DIED SUNDAY AT HOME IN CALDWELL

(From Monday's Daily)

Many friends in Bryan and throughout Brazos county will regret to learn of the death of A. L. Ewing which occurred at his home in Caldwell, Sunday morning at 10:45. He had been in bad health for many years and had been an invalid for the past four years. He was in his 64th year and was born and reared at Pitts Bridge, ten miles west of Bryan in Burleson county.

Everybody in Bryan knew Alec Ewing, and during his years of activity before his health failed, he was one of the sturdy and substantial citizens of this country. He was a Brazos bottom farmer and was a man of large affairs. This section had no better men than Alec Ewing and his death will be regretted by many, especially his old friends and neighbors in the bottom. He was a member of the Missionary Baptist church. The funeral was held at the old Post Oak church cemetery between Tunis and Caldwell this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of many friends and acquaintances, a number going over from this city. The cemetery where he sleeps is one of the oldest in the State and his father, grandfather, and many other relatives are buried there. May his last sleep underneath the stately oaks that rise above him, be sweet and peaceful.

Judge Davis and Mr. Walton and as I wish to pay honor to whom honor is due that thirty minutes after the Bryan delegation arrived on the grounds Judge Davis was placed on the program to respond to the address of welcome at the suggestion of Mr. Rountree, who exerted a splendid influence in the convention. Mr. Rountree was unanimously elected chairman of the great meeting and in a twenty minute talk sounded the keynote of the proposition of selling "East Texas to East Texans" which met with continued applause. Everywhere there were favorable comments in which the chairman (a citizen of Bryan) steered the great organization upon a permanent basis and formed what will be known in the future of the greatest power for the development of the whole section. I feel like saying that Mr. Rountree stood out easily as a leader in the organization and his counsel was sought on all questions as he had studied out a course for success which was molded into complete compactness. While with a delegation from his former home, Sulphur Springs, they said to me: "If the Chamber of Commerce of Bryan had secured him to come here it was the biggest day's work they had ever done." A motion was made by John A. Moore, Jr., and unanimously carried that the Board express its hearty appreciation of the faithful service of the Bryan delegates at the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in behalf of the citizens of Bryan and Brazos county and that the committee be discharged.

Major L. L. McInnis and Lee J. Rountree were called and made brief talks regarding the present and future of A. and M. College submitting some plans for its betterment and enlargement which have been endorsed by the Board of Directors and approved by Dr. Bizzell and other friends of the great institution.

Dr. Bizzell Talks.

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of A. and M. College, stated that he wanted to congratulate the Chamber of Commerce on sending such a delegation abroad and that their influence was felt in every act of the great convention. He said that everywhere in Texas he heard of the splendid team-work of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce complimented he was always proud to be known as director of the organization. Dr. Bizzell said that the Bryan Eagle was worthy of more support than it was receiving and that the people of Bryan should stand by a newspaper that commanded the respect of the people of Texas and was giving them much real, valuable and unpurchasable publicity. He urged the business men to give the paper more support and all to stand by those who were able to aid them.

Dr. Bizzell stated that he wanted to emphasize in particular the coming of the bankers of Texas to the College of April 20-21, when each banker was expected to bring five or six leading farmers from their communities to attend this important conference. Dr. Bizzell asked the members of the Chamber of Commerce to assist in the entertainment of the visitors by furnishing their automobiles during the two days and he wanted especially the directors to attend at least one day in a body. President Jenkins referred the matter to the Entertainment Committee and the secretary to confer with the entertainment committee at the College. Dr. Bizzell was assured of the hearty co-operation of the entire citizenship in making the banker-farmers meeting a marked success.

PROF. ECK SMITH FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

The Eagle is authorized to announce Prof. Eck Smith as a candidate for the office of County Superintendent, subject to the action of the July democratic primary.

Professor Smith was reared in the neighboring county of Robertson, but has made his home for some time in Brazos and has a wide acquaintance with the people over the county. He has taught in the county for two years and is now principal of the Shiro school. He is recognized as one of the live, wide-awake rural teachers of the county. Prof. Smith has had two years in college, one year in State normal and two years training in the Fort Worth Seminary. He has also attended two summer sessions of the State University. He has had fifteen years experience in teaching and with his educational qualifications and teaching experience, he believes himself fully equipped for the important duties of the office of County Superintendent.

Professor Smith is thoroughly alive to all the late methods in school work and believes the hope of the future education of the rural children is to get out of the old ruts in which the rural schools have been since the beginning of our present educational system and begin work along new lines. He heartily favors a modern program of education especially for rural schools as it applies to vocational training—a training which gives the child something to do, something to make him think and develop him along practical lines, as well as to teach him theory. He believes children should learn now those things they will need when they become men and women, and to do this he sees great room for improvement in our schools.

Professor Smith will appreciate the support of his friends and the voters generally and if elected, pledges the most efficient service he is capable of rendering. The Eagle submits his claims to the voters of the county.

HARVEY NEWS.

Harvey, April 6th.—Well, March has passed with its bluster, its hushes passed with its bluster, its sand and cold north winds, and it seems he was not satisfied with roaring like a lion during his own month but is keeping it up in April the month in which we expect balmy weather and spring showers to make all vegetation take on new life. Last Saturday was as lovely as one could wish up to 11 p. m. with the moon full and resplendent in its beauty and the women were rejoicing in the thought that they would at last have a warm Easter in which they could display their new spring dresses with comfort, when lo! by morning there was a roaring norther which never caught its breath till noon.

Six of the Villa Maria girls spent their Easter holidays in Harvey four as guests of their school mate, Miss Annie Dyess, namely Misses Alma and Zedra Freedman, Dorothy Davy, and Beulah Roane, and two with Miss Lily Davidson, Misses Minnie Lee Angier and Bettie Muhl Stagers.

A party was given at the home of Dr. J. C. Davidson complimentary to the visiting girls last Saturday night. The night was ideal for a party with the full moon shining in all its glory, and the weather warm enough to make it pleasant on the wide verandas. A large crowd was present quite a number from Bryan and adjoining communities attended. Dancing on the front porch to the music of a Victrola was the principal amusement while others remained in the parlor chatting and listening to piano music, and still others played games on the front lawn. They were indeed a joyous and happy crowd. All were considerate enough to leave at 10:30 in order that their hosts could be on time next a. m. at Easter services at Bright Light.

Col. J. B. Dunn of Wheelock reports that during the past few days two or three hundred dead rats have been found around his barns. The arsenic contained in the dip killed them. The rats are thus serving a double purpose, the eradication of ticks and the extermination of rats.
